LISA GIFFORD

As I write this note, March Madness is about to kick off and EYC Spring prep madness is already underway. Your EYC Board of Directors is working on layups, jump balls and three pointers. Thank goodness there is not an ounce of truth to that statement. However, we have been busy hiring an incredible staff, fine tuning lesson offerings, reorganizing the weekly race series, inventorying equipment, revamping the EYC webpage and planning social events/fundraisers all in an effort to make for an amazing 2025 summer.

Over the winter, I stumbled upon a book titled Tales of Ephraim Waters written by Malcom D. Vail. This book was published for the EYC's 50th Anniversary in 1956. Mr. Vail writes, "The idea of writing a history of the Ephraim Yacht Club came to me in the first place because of the my great interest in the Club and its development, and because of the happiness it has brought to me over half a century of Ephraim summers and is now bringing to my family who are fourth generation Ephraim lovers."

The book details a charming story for sailors and landlubbers of Ephraim and its water. It outlines the establishment of the EYC and its role as a fundamental pillar of the village of Ephraim. The EYC had some growing pains in its early years, but weathered every storm. Through additions of land, dock and clubhouse, the EYC put down strong roots. Initially, a club of various classes of sailboats, it was decided that the club would have one class of boats for sailboat racing. In 1937, made possible by Warren Davis, Thomas Lord, Chester Tripp, and Malcolm Vail, the Sea Gull Fleet was the first class of EYC boats. Mr Vail writes, "A starting cannon which had been in use at the early part of the century at the Chicago Yacht Club was obtained and racing took a new and vigorous lease on life. Skippers from eleven to seventy, male and female, set the pattern of “everybody sails”. The club adopted with enthusiasm the idea of being a family club with emphasis on the young people. From that day on, mothers and fathers have sat on the dock and on the clubhouse porch, suffering or rejoicing as the fortunes of their young people waxed or waned on the race course. Most of them have agreed that self-reliance, responsibility and sportsmanship developed rapidly under these conditions and are a large part of the dividends for efforts expended in keeping the Club a center of interest for their children.

"THERE WILL ALWAYS BE AN EPHRAIM REGATTA"

Today, the EYC’s mission and vision statement reflects and embraces Mr. Vail’s hopes.

EYC’s Mission ~

Provide outreach programs, equipment and facilities, and funding for sailing education, training, and competition so that students may learn the life skills and values important in being active and productive members of the community.

EYC’s Vision ~

Build a sustainable, life enriching sailing education experience that positively impacts the community and reinforces a desire to preserve sailing’s Corinthian spirit and values and the Club’s rich history of tradition for future generations.

Eighty years later, the EYC proudly has the Flying Scot, Laser, 420, Optimist and RS Terra fleets for lessons and racing. EYC’s sailing instruction program is robust and parents still find themselves on the dock or clubhouse porch experiencing the emotions of their parents or grandparents before them as they watch their young people race on Eagle Harbor.

Safety is paramount at EYC. A powerboat fleet to assist races and lessons can be found on the side of the dock on lifts and ready for action, much like broncos in a rough stock pen. The EYC Gala this summer aims to raise funds to update lifts, always striving to improve lesson and race experiences for members. Funds raised in excess of those needed for lifts will be added to EYC’s rainy day fund. So please consider donating. All donations are welcome; no amount is too small. Rest assured that every dollar ultimately supports the EYC mission and vision.

Over the years, the EYC Board has learned from those who served before and worked hard to establish reserves so the EYC can weather storms. Membership dues (which the Board strives to keep low) and lesson fees, for the most part, cover the club’s annual operating costs. When EYC needs equipment upgrades or capital improvements, EYC relies on members to step up and donate resources to fund the tasks. Through careful planning and conservative spending, EYC has a rainy day fund which would cover operating expenses for one year. That being said, life is unpredictable and even with our best efforts and planning, it would serve the club to one day have an endowment. An endowment would allow for interest earned on endowed funds to be part of the budget and allow for more scheduled equipment upgrades or dock and house improvements. To start an endowment, EYC would need an angel or a generous well-wisher (a description used by Mr. Vail to describe ones who helped defray expenses with the Clubhouse in 1939). I dare to dream.

EYC’s roots are part of the tapestry which is the foundation of Ephraim and over the years when EYC lets out the main sheet, the sail can catch a greater amount of wind power. In doing this, EYC boasts membership from all neighboring towns and villages. EYC has thus established itself as a pillar of Door County. Every member is a part of the living legacy of Ephraim and Door County as a whole.

Serving as your Commodore, I make it a priority to listen. Everyone’s connection to the EYC is their own charming story and the ways in which the club is used by members takes many shapes. The multigenerational component of the club is unique. For many, it is a reminder of times which can be more simple in the best ways.

The EYC website calendar had a glow up over the off season and there is lots of fun to be had during EYC Summer 2025! Check it out. www.eyc.org/events/ Commencing with Spring Clean Up/Clubhouse Opening Work Day and the Opening Social, there is something for every member. Attend the Aaron R. Moore Fyr Bal EYC Scholarship Pancake breakfast for the best pancakes, strawberries and sausages in the county IMO. Enjoy weekend sails on club boats, take lessons, compete in weekly series races and regattas for each fleet. Take a long weekend for July 4th. The second annual men’s golf outing will be on Thursday, July 3rd. Sail in the Geezergatta and show everyone you’ve still got it and if you don’t, the Ice Cream Social will make for a sweet finish to July 4th. On Saturday, July 5th, enjoy more family togetherness and race in the Family Regatta. Throughout the season, kids will have a blast at weekly junior activities. Kids at heart will enjoy Bunco, Bridge and Mah Jongg. Bring a dish and enjoy the sunset at Friday Night Potlucks or at the First Mates’ Ladies Sunset

Social. Not to be missed, Kick Up Your Boots – “Lift Your Spirits” at the EYC Gala! “Taco’bout” awesome, the Family Fiesta Party will be back for its second annual! And when it’s time for the sun to set on EYC summer 2025, cap it off with the Commodore’s Party!

Thank you membership for stepping up when I called for all hands on deck. This is your club and it is the treasure it is because of the time, talents and resources you give wholeheartedly. Continue to volunteer because everything you do makes for a better EYC.

Thank you to the EYC Board of Directors! Laura O’Rourke, Steve Sauter, Marta Fonseca, Carol Claypool, Fran Morof, Brain Ritter, Woody Heidler, Jim Peterman, Colin Knight, Julia Reynolds, and Susanna Mortara are the best of the best and it is a pleasure to sail the EYC ship with them. As your Commodore, my commitment to EYC has been to honor the past and at the same time trim EYC’s sails for the future. This year is Ephraim Yacht Club’s 125th birthday! Happy Birthday, EYC!

In his book, Mr Vail writes “As we celebrate, in 1956, the fiftieth birthday of the club, we have no fear that its future will fail to live up to the hopes and ideals of those who formed its past, and we can feel secure in the knowledge that those who are to follow have every opportunity for fair winds and clear sailing.”

I am humble in my belief that Mr Vail would be pleased with and proud of EYC at 125 years young. This year, Ephraim Yacht Club will host the 120th Ephraim Regatta upholding the dreams of those before “There will always be an Ephraim Regatta.”

Look forward to seeing you on the dock!

Dock and House Report

COLIN KNIGHT

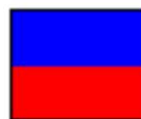

As we look forward to another year of fun at the EYC, here are some updates from the dock.

The dock is going to protect itself from boats that try to move it (none have succeeded yet)! The plan is to provide horizontal barriers all around the dock. There will also need to be some repairs done on the wooden strakes that sit inside the corrugated steel wall. Another planned upgrade is the replacement and refurbishing of the remaining boat lifts. We added lifts last year, and this year, all the lifts need a service to make them reliable and easy to use for the season.

Over the next six months, Lake Michigan-Huron water levels are predicted to be 11 to 14 inches below last year’s levels, 8 to 9 inches below long term average levels, 42 to 43 inches below record high levels (remember 2020 and water over the dock), and 21 to 24 inches above record low levels.

The team is working hard to get the dock ready and lifts in place as early as possible, so the season can start with sailing, swimming, watching sunsets, and just hanging out in this special part of the world.

Equipment Report

STEVE SAUTER

Winter/Spring 2025 Equipment Report.

Spring is right around the corner. We need water. If you know any special prayers or a water dance, please pull it out.

All our boats are tucked away in the Andersens' barn. Thank you again Bill and Heather for providing storage for:

13 Flying Scots
18 420's
12 Lasers
12 RS Teras
24 Optis
5 Whalers
2 Zodiacs
A fleet of 76 boats.

I would like to thank everyone who helped move boats and especially the students and staff who cared for the boats and made 2024 a summer with the least amount of damage I have ever seen.

“Call for anchors!” While you are cleaning out your garage, boat, or other storage facility and want to relieve yourself of unused mushroom, Danforth or any other anchor, please remember that the EYC uses a lot of anchors. Give me a call or just drop them off outside the lower door of the EYC.

Director's Report

JACKSON GRAHAM

As my senior year enters its final months and graduation looms around the corner, my thoughts turn to one of the few certainties about my future I have – working at the EYC this summer. I can't wait to be back in the water sailing, watching sunsets from the dock, going to Junior Activities, and just spending time down at the EYC. I'm counting down the days until the harbor is full of sailboats and the club is full of life. I'm excited to be able to spend another summer at the EYC and I'm grateful for the opportunity to be the Club Director. Last summer, we had an excellent staff that did a great job at making learning to sail fun. With plenty of familiar faces, and a few new ones, we're looking to make this summer even better!

I'm happy to introduce our 2025 Staff:

Club Director: Jackson Graham
 Assistant Director: Hayden Johansen

Junior Activities

TAVA WILSON

The 2025 Junior Activities will once again be held on Wednesday evenings at 6:30 p.m. and will last until 7:30 or 8:00 p.m. These events are coordinated by parents (we are always looking for volunteers to stay and join in the fun :-)), and run by the EYC staff. Generally, they are game nights, ranging from putt-putt golf, to kickball, to water games, and more. It is best to send the kids fed and ready to play as food is typically not served. Come one, come all...the more the merrier!

EYC Summer Party 2025

JANE LACY

Kick Up Your Boots and "Lift" Your Spirits

After a successful 2024 season, the EYC board asked our instructors and staff how we could enhance both student and staff experiences. The feedback was clear: more reliable boat lifts would significantly improve teaching efficiency and increase valuable water time with students. Currently, broken lifts and wait times are consuming valuable instructional minutes.

In response, we've launched our Lift Improvement Plan (LIP) to replace five of our eleven boat lifts this Spring. The remainder will be upgraded over the next few years.

Make a Lasting Impact. Here's your chance to "lift" the spirits of our dedicated staff and eager students! Families, individuals, or groups can sponsor a new EYC boat lift for $5,500 each.

As a donor, you'll:

- Choose the name for your lift
 - Receive a permanent decorative name plate mounted on your donated lift
 - Be recognized at our Summer Party celebration
- Celebrate With Us!

Join us Friday, June 27th, at About Thyme Barn in Baileys Harbor for our Summer Party, where we'll announce donors and celebrate EYC's commitment to quality sailing instruction, friendship, and fun.

Shine your cowboy boots and kick-off summer with:

- Farm-fresh BBQ catered by About Thyme
- DJ and Western Line dancing
- Reconnect with your EYC friends
- Tickets go on sale May 1st.
- Watch for electronic Evite in early May.

For more information on the Lift Improvement Plan, please contact Lisa Gifford at commadore@eyc.org or Colin Knight at uksurf@sbcglobal.net.

For more information on the EYC Summer Party, please contact Jane Lacy at janelacy@me.com

Flying Scot Midwest Direct Championship, August 1-3, 2025. The Flying Scot Midwest District Championship has rotated back to EYC and will be held in conjunction with the Ephraim Regatta this year. Since this is a district championship, there should be more racers in attendance.

Housing. I've already received a request to provide housing for Dan Leach (Fleet Captain for Clinton Lake) and Chris Tesdal for the Districts/Ephraim Regatta. Some of you know them. If anyone has room for two men who don't need five-star accommodations, please let me know. Housing is a great way to extend EYC hospitality. There are additional sailors who have also expressed interest in coming to Ephraim if housing or a yard to put up a tent were available.

Racing This Summer. In addition to our regular club racing, I'm hoping that we can add some different/fun race formats that aren't standard Windward/Leewards and include juniors and/or other adults who would like to learn about racing in a more casual setting. This might include distance racing within Eagle Harbor, a scavenger hunt race, extra points for having beginners or juniors on your Scot, etc. If you have suggestions, please let me know.

Flying Scot Junior North American Championship.

FSSA has asked me if EYC would be willing to host the FSSA Junior NAC Next Year. This would typically be a two-day, weekend event or it might be something that we could do before the Ephraim Regatta. FSSA is aware of our strong junior sailing program. It also knows that we have club boats that could be chartered by others who are unable to bring their own boat. Before I ask the Board about this, please let me know if you would be willing to support this and if you have any suggestions.

Looking for a Florida Trip Next Spring? The Flying Scot Midwinters will be back at the Sarasota Sailing Squadron in Sarasota, Florida for the first time in a long time Friday-Sunday, March 6-8, 2026. There are people in the Class who think that Sarasota has been the best location ever for a Midwinters. Bring your family for a Florida vacation. Mark your calendars!

Fleet Activities. If you are interested in help with getting your boat set up for the season or some chalk talks, let me know. I hope that there will also be opportunities, at a minimum, for those who are interested, to do some socializing after racing.

Flying Scot Midwinters 2025. I just returned from the Midwinters last weekend in Ft. Walton, Florida. It was great, but there was too much wind and so we couldn't get in the required number of races. Congratulations to Michael Faugust, Jennifer Ikeda (and yours truly) who placed fifth in the Championship Division. I must note that a couple of us had a conversation during the Midwinters with Terry Dees and her husband, Dan Kolenich, at Ft. Walton. Terry was the Flying Scot Class President in 1995 and she and her husband attended the 2009 NACs at EYC. She said that it was still the best NAC she ever attended. When Michael Faugust asked her what made it memorable, she started out by complimenting our junior staff – all our juniors who helped park boats, unload and transport gear, helped get masts up, and otherwise assisted wherever they could. She also mentioned that all of our events were terrific and, for the most part, kept all the racers together over the course of the event. So, here we are about 16 years later and our event is still well remembered. Kudos to EYC!

Thanks for the Memories

FRAN MOROF

I am happy to report that, after 15 years and 30 editions, I am handing over the reins of the Eagle's Cry to the very capable hands of Amy Mangun. I am very excited to see her vision!

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their contributions of informative articles and beautiful photographs. Most importantly I'd like to send an extra special thank you to my co-editor and proofreader Nancy Claypool. I couldn't imagine putting this newsletter together without you!!

I have enjoyed my time getting to know our long list of dedicated volunteers, talented students, sailors, staff, and dear friends. EYC is a very special club and the Eagle's Cry has been a great way to connect with our membership.

EYC Bridge 2025

SUZANNE LISLE

It won't be long before summer days will bring us back to the porch of our lovely EYC Clubhouse for the opportunity to enjoy bridge with fellow club members. We hope you have had the chance to play frequently during the past fall and winter. Our regular season of play begins the week of June 9. Monday, June 9 begins with Open Play from 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Couples bridge begins on Tuesday, June 10 beginning at 4:30 p.m., with the option of going out for dinner together following our game.
